

The budgets of some education authorities only allow purchase of the most basic entry level instruments. To answer this need, Stentor provides the Stentor Student Standard. Unlike many other economy level instruments, the violin is made to correct measurements and specifications, with black hardwood pegs and fingerboard. The outfit comes with an attractive lightweight case with green outer cover and a good student wood bow.

The violin is made from carved solid tonewoods and represents amazing value; it should not be confused with low quality pressed timber instruments which have a short useable life.
