Made in the Workshops of
Andreas Zeller
ROMANIA
For Stentor Music Co. Ltd.

1793 / 1794

The standard of workmanship and high quality of materials in Romania has long been recognised. Over many years, Stentor has developed a range of violins to answer the need for a good student outfit, of European origin, at a moderate price. The result is the only violin from Romania made with correct thickening and dimensions. These instruments should not be confused with inferior examples from that country.

"The Zeller instruments have not only stood up to the wear and tear of small children very well, but have also proved themselves to be more than capable of producing some very nice quality tone from the very early beginnings - much to the relief of some parents and teachers on the project!"
